JAMES McNAMARA knew the value of “sunshine” and throughout his career, shared stories with journalists – Murray Kempton, Selwyn Raab, Wayne Barrett, Tom Robbins, Jack Newfield, and many others – about the problems he tackled – race discrimination and corruption in the labor unions.

JOIN us to celebrate Jim’s long and productive life – a life in politics, in the labor movement, and in government.

THURSDAY EVENING
October 21, 6:00 P.M. via Zoom
(Registration required)

SPEAKERS:
SHANNON O’NEILL
Curator for Tamiment–Wagner Collections, New York University

RACHEL BERNSTEIN
LaborArts and the New York Labor History Association

TOM ROBBINS
Investigative Journalist in Residence, Craig Newmark Graduate School of Journalism, CUNY

KURT RICHWERGER
Executive Director, Association for Union Democracy (AUD)

WILLIAM KORNBLUM
Emeritus Professor of Sociology, The Graduate Center, CUNY; AUD Advisory Board – Slideshow/PowerPoint on the Life of James McNamara, Sound track by Charles Mingus, Goodbye Pork Pie Hat

NANCY MCNAMARA HALL
Jim McNamara’s Daughter

SPONSORS:
Tamiment–Wagner Special Collections, NYU
Association for Union Democracy
Craig Newmark Graduate School of Journalism, CUNY
LaborArts
New York Labor History Association